

MONKEY READER PROJECT

Introduction

The project contains all the information to date on coding an artificial intelligence capable of duplicate your ego as sequences of my demos already providing elements of my ego in its form and the creation of a chimera requires more time interface defined by autonomous entities capable of feeding time information.

Subjects

Build your own ego and virtual interface the computer with all the senses known.

Calculate the probability that an event occurs through simulations egotistical vision.

Conclusion

It is possible to define a procedure for reproduction to provide a healthy ego can reproduce and live in all the possible match of existence.